Cabinet overturns OMB decision - Minden Lake subdivision can proceed

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has been vindicated in its support of a developer who wishes to open 25 lots on the shores of Minden Lake.

The proposal, originally rejected at an Ontario Municipal Board hearing held in late December of last year, has been approved. The OMB decision was overturned by the Ontario Cabinet. The order in council (Cabinet) signed by Ontario's Lieutenant Governor was received by the municipal office late last week.

According to the Cabinet order, the municipal by-law permitting the development of 25 shoreline lots, each with an area of 3200 square feet, was approved. This gives developer Elmar Hodsoll the green light to proceed with the project.

Bern Berry, the president of the lake association refused to comment on the decision of the Cabinet. He said the executive of the association would be meeting Tuesday evening (July 14) to decide if the group would attempt to pursue the matter further.

Members of the Minden Lake property owner's association had protested strongly at the December OMB hearing to the development. They had stated the project would create added stress to the lake and surrounding environment.

The OMB chairman who heard the arguments, W.H.J. Johnson, agreed with the association. He suggested that any development should be frozen until a lake capacity study could be carried out to determine the carrying ability of the lake.

Minden Lake is a long thin body of water which was created by the damming of the Gull River by the Orillia Water, Light and Power Company. Since the lake serves as the reservoir for the power dam, water levels fluctuate on the lake, a point mentioned by those suggesting more study is needed before development can proceed.

Minden council decided in February to carry the appeal of the case to the Cabinet level. At that time Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard cited the loss of tax revenue as one reason for following up on the case. Costs for the appeal and the hearings into the matter have been borne by the developer.

The original proposal for the subdivision had been for 31 lots. An OMB hearing in April 1980 rejected this number and suggested that the developer reduce the number of lots. At the second hearing in December the developer presented a plan for 25 lots in the same area. This was rejected also by the OMB.

The Cabinet decision did not indicate any reasons for the reversal.

A lot set aside for a public park will also remain part of the plan. The park was opposed by the property association on a number of counts, including that it might attract undesirable elements to the area and that it was proposed for a hilly area which left no place for parking except the roadway. The park will be 1.75 acres in size.

The December decision of the Ontario Municipal Board chairman also assigned costs of $1000 to the municipality for the hearing. The Cabinet decision left that portion of the ruling in place. The developer will cover that expense for the township.

Road oiling curtailed at request of rural residents

At least one group of township residents has stopped plans by the municipality to place used oil on their roads to control summer dust. A number of residents in the Blairhampton area requested that the township use other methods to control the dust, and the township complied with the request, using calcium chloride in place of the oil.

Johannes Moraal, one of the residents along the Duck Lake Road, described the action as "no big deal". He commented, "I'm very pleased that it went so smoothly," referring to the municipality's acquiescence to the request.

Moraal said that while the application of oil does a good job at stopping the dust, a number of residents in the area were concerned about the possibility the liquid contained PCBs. He noted that the township could not say for certain what the oil contained, and so the residents sought to have the municipality use the calcium treatment.

The township purchases its oil needs from one company which also applies it to the gravel roads under the direction of the municipality. The oil is collected by the company from a number of sources and in the past studies have shown that some oil containing PCBs, a dangerous chemical compound, has been part of the batch used on road surfaces in the province.

Moraal pointed out that he had farm animals which graze close to the township road. "The rain washes the oil and anything it contains, off the road," he commented. He said there was a possibility the oil could contaminate ground-water or reach his livestock through the grass they eat.

"A number of years ago I didn't think too much about the application of oil on the roads," he commented. "As a matter of fact many people used to spread oil themselves to keep down the dust. But in recent years I've become aware of the problems related to PCBs." He said he was very pleased with the co-operative attitude of the municipality.

Another Blairhampton resident who requested the township not oil the roads was Helen Johnson. "I'm not 'up' on all the chemicals the oil might contain," she said, "but it sure does make a mess of the cars, clothing that comes in contact with the cars. I'd just as soon not have the oil applied because of the mess and, if there is the possibility of chemical contamination, that's another reason. I just don't like it," she commented.

Johnson said she had

Minden man drowns

A pleasant canoeing excursion ended in death for a Minden man last Wednesday evening.

drowned as he was trying to swim to shore after his canoe started filling with water from the waves. He was almost 50 feet from the dock when he went under. He had been staying at a cottage on Drag Lake.

A companion, Peter J. Wilson, of Haliburton and a neighbouring cottager, John W. Klink of Scarborough, who had witnessed the event began searching and recovered Diaz a short time later. However, Diaz did not respond to attempts to revive him.

Diaz leaves his wife, Patricia and two small children.

There were no life jackets aboard the canoe.

The coroner in the case was Dr. Antony Holliday-Rhodes.

The investigating officers were Constable Al Bibby and Corporal Ron Foran.

A familiar figure to travellers along Highway 35 south of Minden, This totem pole is one of two at the entrance to Kilcoo Camp. The camp will mark its fiftieth year of operation later this year. Our reporter Sue Scott visited the camp last week to find out more about this Highlands institution. Her story and pictures appear on page 5.

DINING OUT in the HIGHLANDS

The Setting

Set on the east end of Canning Lake, Sunny Rock Lodge has become an increasingly popular dining spot in the Highlands.

The lodge, with accommodation for 26 guests, welcomes everyone to its dining room. The structure was built in 1934 and has been operated by Barry and Lorna Shaw since September 1979.

The restaurant at the lodge features home cooking, with everything prepared right on the premises. "Even the bread is baked in our oven," Barry comments proudly.

One of the most popular features of Sunny Rock Lodge dining is the Saturday steak barbeque. Barry has constructed a giant grill on which he can cook up to 24 steaks at one time. Diners can select the steak they want and watch as Barry grills it over the charcoal.

In addition to the steak, grilled the way you like it, the Saturday special includes a salad bar with 15 selections, tasty homemade garlic bread and cheesecake for dessert.

The steak barbeque is a regular Saturday feature, and as we mentioned, a popular one. This Saturday is already booked up.

The dining room and sun deck currently seat close to 40, 32 is the limit in the dining room alone. However, expansion plans are in the future for Sunny Rock. Barry notes that the capacity of the dining room will be expanded to seat 70. The owners are currently applying for a licence to serve liquor.

An important aspect of the lodge's trade is the winter activities. With heated cabins, the lodge provides an excellent base for cross-country and snowmobile enthusiasts. The lodge maintains 10 miles of its own cross-country ski trails and these connect with the trails recently established by Snowdon Township. Snowmobile trails are also nearby.

Sunny Rock Lodge is located east of Minden off Highway 519. Follow South Lake Road from Minden.

Concern expressed over facilities at 12 Mile beach

Washroom facilities at the church beach on 12 Mile Lake are inadequate and in poor condition and Anson, Hindon and Minden council will ask for an investigation.

The decision was made after a resident, Jack Weekes, appeared at council last week to complain about the insufficient facilities.

He was particularly concerned about the large number of children who take swimming lessons there. He said there are two washrooms but they are across the road from the beach and he says he rarely sees people walking across to get to those facilities.

"Something has to be done," he said. "I'm sure those kids are going in the lake. And, it's not only kids, there are adults too."

Deputy-reeve, Doug Pritchard, asked Weekes what suggestions he had for improvement and although

Driver charged following mishap

Two carloads of young men had been heading away from Minden on Highway 121 towards Kinmount when the second driver lost control and rolled over early Sunday morning.

The driver, 20-year-old Ricardo Orlando Pereira, of Scarborough, was thrown from the car and suffered internal injuries. He was taken to Lindsay Hospital and is now reported in stable condition.

His passenger, Geoff Martin, 21, of Scarborough received minor injuries.

Damage to the 1973 Toyota was $4000.

noticed in areas where the oil had been applied, it was being done in a more careful manner. "Previously they had left pools of oil standing on the road which only added to the mess. However, this year they seem to have been more careful in the way the stuff was applied."

Most of the oiling in Anson, Hindon and Minden has now been completed. Areas where oil has not been applied, dust will be controlled by the application of calcium chloride.

The driver of the first car noticed the accident in his rear view mirror and returned to the scene. He assisted and accompanied his friends to Minden Red Cross Hospital. The driver's name was not given but his passenger, 21-year-old Thomas Owen Thornber, also of Scarborough took the undamaged car and attempted to follow his friends back to Minden.

He had travelled about five miles before he lost control and hit a rock cut. He was uninjured but was charged with impaired driving.

Damage to the 1979 GMC was $700. Constable Brian Dunham investigated the incident.

Weekes said he really didn't know, he did suggest installing a chemical toilet near the beach for convenience.

Weekes said he doesn't get his water from the lake but that some people do and he questioned the water quality.

Clerk, Elinor Burke said bottles are available from the office if he was interested in having the water tested.

Reeve Lloyd Walker said he would have Brian Sisson, who manages the beach, submit a report on the matter before any decision is made.

A political decision?

A decision by the Ontario Cabinet to over-rule the Ontario Municipal Board with regard to a subdivision on the shores of Minden Lake does little to clarify the issues surrounding this and other similar developments.

In particular, since the Cabinet decision fails to offer any explanation for the reversal, it leaves all parties to the dispute in the dark. The property owners who voiced their objections in April (1980) and last December, put forward some strong and convincing arguments. It was obvious by the decision which followed from the chairman, W.H.J. Johnson, that their case carried a great deal of weight.

It would be interesting, therefore, to discover what criteria the Cabinet used in reaching its verdict.

The municipality, which has come under some heavy fire recently at a number of OMB hearings, because of the supposed inadequacy of its zoning and land use by-law, could certainly benefit from the same information. The township is currently undergoing a major revision of the by-law and any guidance which the provincial authorities could offer would be of assistance.

Other lake associations, as well as the one on Minden Lake, would no doubt be interested in knowing where the case was lacking.

Without an explanation, the reasoning behind the decision appears to be purely political. That should not be surprising as the Cabinet has never been considered to be an impartial "court" of last resort. Unless the motivation behind the Cabinet's actions is revealed, the only assumption is that the decision was political.

Saying "No"

It is surprising and encouraging to know that citizens of Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships have at least some control over how the environment in which they live will be treated.

We refer to the action of a number of residents of the Blairhampton area who requested that gravel roads in their part of the township not be treated with oil as a dust control measure. Many of them objected because of the potential hazard posed by the possibility the second hand oil could contain dangerous chemicals, such as PCBs. Others expressed concern about the mess road oiling often leaves behind on cars, clothes, animals and people.

The township agreed to by-pass the area with the oil and treat the roads with calcium chloride instead.

Dust can be a nagging problem in rural areas during the summer months. However, some people consider at least one cure for the problem offered by the township to be worse than the nuisance and have willingly taken a stand.

Congratulations to those who said "No".

Congratulations to the township authorities for respecting their wishes.

Somewhere behind those weeds lurks the remaining portion of the Minden welcome sign. Read what you can now before it is all hidden from view.

Former school inspector dies

The man for whom Minden's elementary school is named, and a former school inspector in Haliburton County, Archie Stouffer, died July 8 at the age of 86.

Archie Stouffer was born December 24, 1895 in Stouffville, Ontario, one of seven children. His family's 200 acre farm lay on the outskirts of the town that took its name from his family. They had emigrated from the United States to the area as United Empire Loyalists.

He attended teacher's college in Toronto and his first elementary teaching position was in Dixon Hill, near Stouffville, in 1916. That school is now part of the Black Creek Pioneer Village.

In 1922, he returned to Stouffville to marry Candace Ebeby. He taught there until 1928 and was transferred to Weston. He taught at the Collegiate in that community until he was named public school inspector for Haliburton County in 1938.

During the mid 1940's, Stuart Baker, now principal at the Minden Elementary School, who was an elementary student at the time, recalls the music festivals that Stouffer and his wife hosted at their Minden home each year.

He retired as inspector in 1958 to become the secretary-treasurer for the County District High School Board, a position he held until 1964.

However, it was after his retirement from the elementary school board that the Anson, Hindon and Minden township board decided to name Minden's elementary school in his honor.

Among Stouffer's other achievements were his collaboration on a series of elementary school science texts which were used by many Ontario Boards.

He was a charter member of the Minden Rotary Club, and was always involved in United Church activities. He was also chairman of the Minden Red Cross Society.

He was a Gideon, delivering copies of the New Testament to students in the area.

Residents of Minden and friends of the Stouffers, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirkwood, remember when the Stouffers first arrived in Haliburton County. They stayed with the Kirkwoods until their own house was ready.

Archie Stouffer had four children, Catharine, Elgin, Mary and John. Mrs. Stouffer continues to reside in Stouffville.

The funeral was held on Saturday, July 11 at the Missionary Church in Stouffville.

"He was a Christian gentleman who lived his life the way he believed in," said Mrs. Kirkwood.

Delivery continues, but we are ready

At the moment local postal service is continuing and as long as these post offices are open The Times will use these facilities to distribute newspapers to subscribers. Individuals served by post offices in Minden, Haliburton, Kinmount, Norland and Dorset can expect to receive their newspaper by mail as long as these offices are operating.

In the event of the disruption of local postal service, special arrangements have been made for the distribution of subscription copies in Minden and Haliburton. Minden box holders and rural route subscribers will be able to pick up their copy of the newspaper from The Times office, Bobcaygeon Road north, from Wednesday noon on. Haliburton box holders and rural route subscribers will be able to pick up their copies of the paper from the Framing Studio, Oak Street, Haliburton, from Thursday morning on. Only the current issues of the newspaper will be available and those papers which are undelivered will be held until postal service resumes and then sent.

Pensions: a hot issue

By W. Roger Worth

Pensions are fast becoming a hot issue in Canada, with at least one federal government minister pressing for a complete overhaul and expansion of the Canada and Quebec Pension Plans.

In fact, many groups and organizations in the country are seeking to double both benefits and contributions under the government operated schemes.

Roger Worth is Director, Public Affairs, Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

The review of pension plans arises because many Canadians do not have adequate retirement income, even though they've paid into privately operated programs for years.

While agreeing there are problems with some private plans funded by employees and the companies they work for, the pension industry believes coverage can be improved to overcome the difficulties.

The basic question, of course, is whether the government should intrude even further into the private sector.

It should be noted that even without expanding the Canada and Quebec Pension Plans CPP/QPP, contributions will have to be raised sharply in coming years, simply to pay for indexed benefits.

In addition, the government plans are underfunded, which means future generations of Canadians will have to pay the cost of supporting retired people.

There are a lot of people who don't believe doubling CPP/QPP benefits and contributions is desirable.

In a recent survey, for example, 66% of the members of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business rejected such a move. About 26% of members supported the proposed change, with about 8% undecided.

Judging from these results, it appears the small business community would prefer that private pension plan operators upgrade their programs, providing better and expanded coverage.

If they don't, it seems clear the federal government will move further into their territory.

50 years of camping on Gull Lake

by Sue Scott

At first there was little except a few shacks and cottages near a secluded bay on Gull Lake when a man, and nearly all the relatives he could round up, opened a boys' summer camp.

It was 1932 and the Great Depression was on. Canadians were feeling the pinch as they never had before. But Kilcoo Camp under the guidance of an extraordinary man, Charles Plewman, was born and this November marks its 50th year of operation, its golden anniversary.

For visitors, Kilcoo Camp, located south of Minden, is easily recognizable by the two tall, statuesque totem poles flanking the entrance. They are symbols of the friendly welcome to a friendly camping experience.

Plewman had long been involved in boys' activities and clubs. Working with the Y.M.C.A. in both Ottawa and Winnipeg for several years and 13 years directing the Ontario Boys' Work Board gave him ample opportunity to help boys of all ages to grow and develop.

His knowledge of camping was impressive and extensive. He served as president of the Ontario Camping Association and as a director of the Canadian Camping Association. More than 30 years of his life have been devoted to camping.

John Latimer, who has owned the camp since 1956, recalls one of Plewman's stories of his first visit to the camp.

"He arrived in the spring and I remember him saying it took about seven hours to drive from Toronto. The roads were primitive then," he says.

He had close to 50 relatives with him and even though it was the middle of the depression, the camp was a success.

Property leased

Plewman leased the property from some local cottagers, says Latimer and it wasn't until several years later that he bought it.

"There's an island across from the camp that Charlie could have bought for $75," says Latimer. "But, at the time, he didn't have the money. We bought just a little section of it a few years ago, and we paid $32,000 for it. Charlie turned a little more grey when he heard what we paid for that section compared to the $75 offer years ago."

If Plewman thought that amount was prohibitive, the counsellors must have thought they were making a veritable fortune being paid the princely sum of one dollar a week. "That continued even up until the late 30's and early 40's," says Latimer.

By the time the 40's rolled around, Canadians were embroiled in the Second World War. Latimer had started at the camp in 1938 as a young camper and now he had become a counsellor. Life at camp was very different during the war.

"A lot of us were given more responsibility as a result of the war," he explains. "Many of our older counsellors were away fighting, so many of us started as counsellors at 14 or 15 which is practically unheard of today."

Latimer says he remembers Plewman taking the campers to Chapel Point and reading telegrams telling of other counsellors who had been killed or lost in action.

"Many of these were people we had come to admire and respect," says Latimer.

A quiet place

Anyone who has ever been involved with Kilcoo Camp will know about Chapel Point and the Indian Council Ring. Campers will remember the plaques hanging in the dining hall on which the name of each camper is inscribed, noting his first year at Kilcoo.

"That, in addition to Chapel Point, is the first place people will go when they visit," says Latimer. "They'll take their wife, or girlfriend or grandmother or whoever and show them exactly where their name is listed on the plaques."

Chapel Point has a special meaning and it's something that can't be described easily. It's a quiet place where the Sunday morning service is held, but it's really much more than that. It's a unique setting, and it's all natural. Hundreds of rocks, none of them arranged in any order, form a rough semi-circle. In front is a platform for the speaker of the day.

"During the first 25 years, the services were fairly religious," says Latimer. "Now, it's non-denominational and I hope the talks are at a level that the campers can really appreciate."

He explains the changing attitude towards the services and what they mean to the campers as well as the staff.

"When the services on Sunday mornings in the old days were over, everyone would get up and leave but now I'll see campers and staff staying, maybe a couple of friends talking or a guy will just be sitting there. When they're busy all week, it's a quiet time for contemplation."

The other highlight at the camp is the Indian Council Ring. As with Chapel Point, there is a special area in the woods where the ceremonies are held.

"We have tried to have the ceremony as traditional as possible," says Latimer. "We explain the meaning of the dances and the prayers and the kids really take it seriously. Then we get into the challenges and the games, which is fun."

He says they explain the legends from the Indian background in Haliburton County because there were Indians in the area. "We talk to the campers about it," he says. They're certainly fascinated when they find out an Indian walked along the same path they are perhaps still walking."

The campers are encouraged to feel they are a part of Kilcoo Camp. Latimer tells of how they will often bury miniature time capsules.

"We've buried a bottle, each boy has written a note which is put inside, and we'll bring it up two or three years later," Latimer says. "That's always a meaningful thing. Some of the notes I've certainly kept because some of the boys are now dead, perhaps they were killed in a car accident. Some of the notes were written by boys saying they were looking forward to the next summer and for some reason or other were taken from us."

says Latimer, since they were probably afraid of losing their campers to other camps. Even as kids, says Latimer, they were never allowed to visit other camps in the Highlands.

With the formation of the Ontario Camping Association, this began to change. Directors started working together and sharing ideas, says Latimer.

Camping in Ontario and Canada has had quite a history with the first private camp opening in the late 1800's in Ontario. It wasn't until 1905 that a second camp opened in Temagami. The 20's brought a couple more and by the 30's, several were operating.

An international experience

Latimer says the camp has been lucky in that the campers they get usually come as a result of a friend who went or by word of mouth among parents. Most of the children come from the southern Ontario region, he says, but they have always had European and Scandinavian children at camp.

"In the last few years," notes Latimer, "camping in Ontario has taken on a truly international flavour. In many other countries similar

Calling all Kilcoo campers

To mark the fiftieth anniversary of Kilcoo Camp, a reunion is being organized for November 7 at the Sheraton Centre in Toronto.

Anyone who attended the camp or was involved in any way is invited.

For more information, call the camp at 286-1091 or in Toronto, call (416) 486-5264.

Camp philosophy

John Latimer has seen many changes in Kilcoo Camp but his philosophy of camping has remained pretty much the same.

He says in the beginning, the camp was very competitive and awards and certificates were the primary motivation.

"Then, that changed a bit," he says. "I believed that for a month a child should have a bit of a break from the pressures of society that say the only way to achieve success is to have this badge or that certificate."

He notes that during the 60's, the camp went through a stage of letting the kids 'do their own thing'. "I thought it was disastrous," he explains. "We had to go through the phase to find out it wasn't the right thing. I think children grow but they need certain guidelines."

He also talked about when the rivalry among the camps was intense. Camp directors would not talk to one another, experiences are unavailable for young boys and so many families now send their children here for a month or two in the summer."

He cites the German people as an example. He says they feel Canada is the last bit of open frontier. They enjoy camping and want their children to enjoy the experience.

The international flavor within the camp comes not only from those attending but also from the origin of the name Kilcoo.

Latimer explains the name Kilcoo comes from the old Plewman family home in Ireland. Plewman had learned that during the 1600's and 1700's, his ancestors lived in a little town named Kilcoo.

When he was organizing the camp, he told the printer he wasn't sure what to call the camp, so he said, "just write down Kilcoo". The printer went ahead with the first brochure using Kilcoo as the name and Plewman used it from then on.

Latimer says the word also has some relation to "church on the side of a hill."

Twin totem poles

Travellers of Highway 35 might wonder about the story behind the two totem poles at the entrance to the camp.

Latimer says one of the camp's craft instructors, Morley Johnson, a native of Minden, and several campers built and carved the poles. Their markings are particular to the Haida Indian tribe from British Columbia.

Many of the activities enjoyed by early campers are still part of the program. Latimer singles out archery, water-skiing and pottery as the three most popular programs but others include canoeing and tripping, riflery, kayaking, sailing and soccer. The camp also has life-saving and water safety classes.

For the past 10 years, the camp has had a maximum number of children, 216. There are 81 staff members and 34 leaders in training.

The children range in age from nine to sixteen. Latimer says they've tried to cut out the younger kids because, "we felt we were just babysitting. We weren't really helping them develop."

He says the key to the camp's success is the staff.

"Many have gone right through as campers and others have had at least 15-16 years at camp," he explains.

"I believe one of the reasons for its success is we've tried to make it as people oriented as possible and not skill oriented," he says. "The skills are there, we hope to teach the boys to improve their skills but in doing so they become more independent and gain more confidence in themselves. It's also the camper's relationship with his counsellor, section director and leader."

Many return

Being one of the oldest camps in Haliburton County, Latimer says he enjoys it when old campers come back to visit.

"A man who attended in 1932 came in the other day and another from 1938 was able to pick out his cabin," Latimer says. "We have campers whose fathers were here and two years ago we had the first situation of a grandfather whose two grandsons are here now."

Kilcoo Camp means tradition and for Latimer it begins in his own family. His son is a counsellor there this year and his other son is away at another camp. All three of his sons have had camping in their lives and perhaps one day one of them will carry on when their father wants to move on.

"I really enjoy camping. I love the kids," he says. "I guess when I can no longer be effective, possibly it'll be time to turn the reins over to somebody else."

The memories, the fun, the people, shared experiences, both happy and sad, lasting friendships and ones that might have been, are all part of life at camp and have been a part of life for many people who enjoyed even a summer or two at Kilcoo Camp.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

This week the Chamber board is meeting with some of the top marketing people from the Ministry of Industry and Tourism to investigate ways and means of developing a long range marketing plan. Long range is certainly descriptive since what is now being planned will come into effect in the spring of 1983 for that year's business. Next year's promotional activities have already been set and will follow the same format as this year's successful program with a separate area directory and brochure and accommodation guides.

Looking ahead the Chamber will have to deal with some drastically changing tourism patterns due to the many factors affecting it. This all day session with the experts from Queen's Park is designed to help clear up some of the concerns we have about those plans and in addition build a better network of communication between ourselves and the people that prepare the government programs.

Mail strike help

During this unfortunate interruption in mail service we are fortunate here in the Highlands that our post office personnel are still working even though they are not receiving mail from outside their area. Rural route delivery has been reduced to about once a week at present and mail may be picked up during regular post office hours.

The Chamber is in a position to help keep the mail moving within the County. Anyone in Minden with mail for Haliburton, may drop it into the Chamber office and we will mail it for you in Haliburton the following day. Anyone in Haliburton with mail for Minden may bring it to the Manpower Outreach Office above the Red & White store and we will mail it in Minden the following day. If you have mail for Dorset, Cardiff or Wilberforce we are in those areas at least once a week and will drop mail off at those post offices also if you

Call before building

If you are planning a project such as a new dock, retaining wall, or other structure, you may not be aware that such a proposal could involve occupation of Crown lake or river bed, and may have adverse effects on fish and wildlife habitat, or on other landowners in the area.

Approval from the Ministry of Natural Resources is required prior to such work, as covered under The Public Lands Act. Ministry staff may also be able to provide you with advice on how to minimize the impact of your project.

Your cooperation in checking with the local Ministry of Natural Resources office prior to proceeding with such work will help us to manage our lakes and rivers more effectively.

Mail cannot be given to us by the post office for transfer once you have mailed it, but if you give it to us with sufficient postage on it we will be pleased to mail it for you at the appropriate post office.

Transferring funds

Resort operators in particular are concerned about how to have potential guests submit their deposits during the strike, and there are many other reasons why it may be very important to transfer funds. You may do this quite readily through your bank who in turn have their own courier service.

Have your customer go to the branch of the same bank you deal with preferably, in their own area, and make the arrangements with a senior teller. They can arrange a telegraphic transfer, or send a draft or money order through the name of the bank and the branch that you are dealing with along with your business name and address.

Businesses using credit cards such as Visa and Master Charge may also take deposits over the phone by simply asking for the customer's account number.

We hope these suggestions are of some assistance to the many businesses we know are experiencing difficulty due to the strike.

Publications

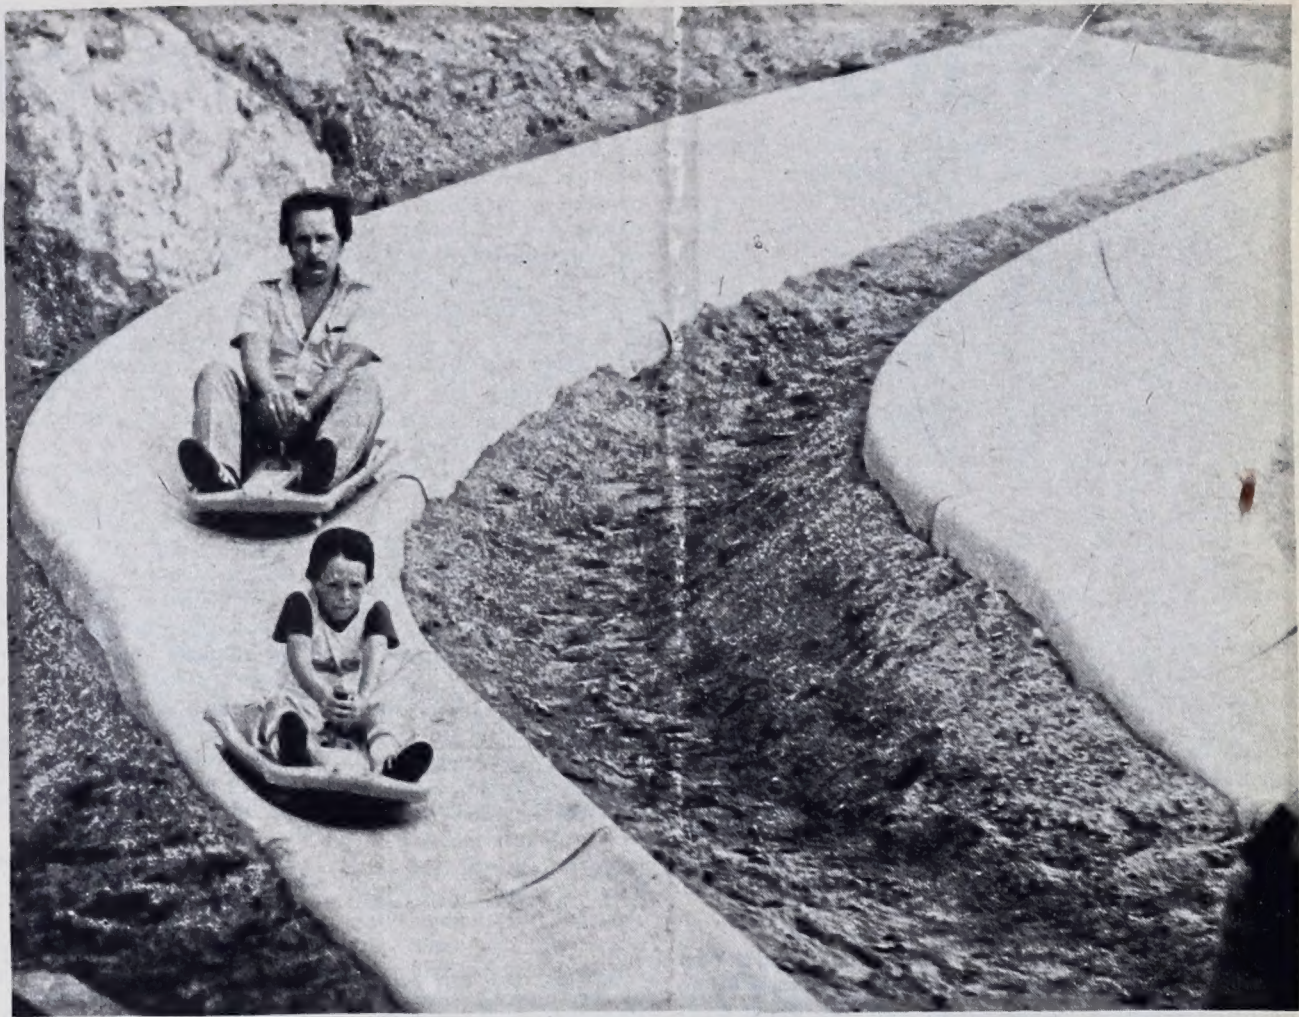

The Federal Business Development Bank has produced two new brochures outlining their counselling assistance to small enterprises (CASE) Program which are available from their local offices or by writing to the Ontario Regional Office, 204 Richmond Street West, 5th Floor, Toronto, M5V 1V6. Tel. 593-1143.

The Ministry of Supply and Services has published a new handbook entitled "The Government of Canada and the Small Business". The booklet covers such topics as getting started, personnel problems, how to get information and expansion in terms of government programs operated to assist in these areas. Copies are available from Publications Canada, P.O. Box 1986, Station B, Ottawa, K1P 6G6.

Coming events footnote

In addition to our coming events this month that were included in last week's column we have just been advised of Haliburton Hockey Haven's open house on July 25. The Hockey Haven is located on Koshlong Lake and has provided a high calibre of sports instruction to boys for many years. They now also have a girls' division called Quannah which provides instruction in the fast growing sport of Ringette. Drop in and see the camp, meet the kids, and view their displays.

We provided a detailed list of what's happening at the Country Good Times in Wilberforce in the last column and only neglected to tell you about one small point - the date! Sorry about that. It's all happening this weekend, July 17, 18, and 19 and if you are planning on entering the amateur talent contest please contact Donna Herbert at 448-2991 or 448-2981 right away in order to register in advance.

Months of preparation finally pay off as Haliburton's spectacular Sky Slider officially opens this Saturday at 2 p.m. Minister of Industry and Tourism, Larry Grossman will be on hand for the ceremonies as will local dignitaries. Last minute plans are being made and officials say the chairlift, which has not been operational, will be ready for Saturday. New lights for downtown Residents of Minden will soon see the light.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is planning to buy five sodium lights for the main street. At the same time, five mercury vapor lights from various points along the street will be removed and installed outside the town proper.

The mercury vapor lights will be put on Orde Street at Orange Grove Lodge and near the Minden cemetery.

The decision to buy the new lights came after a request from Orange Grove that lighting there was inadequate. Deputy-reeve, Doug Pritchard, was asked to look into the matter on behalf of council and at last week's meeting, he made his brief report.

Twenty-five hundred dollars is allotted for lighting in the township budget. The estimate for the new lights was approximately $2300.

Pritchard said he talked to officials at Ontario Hydro who recommended purchasing the sodium lights. He said it would cost $750 for installing the lights. Each sodium light costs $147 while the attached arms are $156 each. Councillor Ed Pergolas said sodium lights cut wattage in half.

Councillor Lyle McKnight

asked Pritchard if there would be any extra charge for changing the light heads and Pritchard said he would check.

The suggestion was made that after the new lights were installed, next year, council might consider lights for along the river bank.

Increased pollution worries Canning Lake association

Pollution, the Minden Red Cross Hospital and the election of officers for the coming year were among a number of important items on the agenda of the annual meeting of the Canning Lake Property Owner's Association. The gathering was held Sunday, overlooking the lake, on the property of Bill Riddell.

The well attended meeting was told that the condition of Canning Lake has deteriorated somewhat in the past year although the body of water still falls within the "moderately rich" category. Lake clarity has also decreased to nine metres, the lowest reading yet. This is also an indication of increased pollution, Andrew Wilson told the members.

"Contamination is at the third highest level ever recorded for the lake," he commented. "We are polluting." The spokesman noted that increases in pollution levels have been noted following each holiday weekend during the summer when the lake would get the most use. Wilson said this sharp rise in pollution levels was another indication of the impact the cottagers and visitors to the lake had on its condition.

Wilson offered the following suggestions for helping to control or stop the deterioration of Canning Lake: (a) The use of all detergents and particularly hair shampoos in or near the lake should stop. He noted that the shampoos were high in phosphates, an element which encourages the growth of algae. He suggested that those wishing to wash in the lake use a bar of Ivory or Castile soaps; (b) Bath water or dishwater should not be discharged into the lake; (c) Unnecessary idling of outboard motors adds to the oil and gas pollution on the surface of the lake. Engines should be turned off when not in use; (d) Garbage of any kind should not be thrown into the lake; (e) And finally, sewage of any kind should not be allowed to reach the lake.

The members were given an update report on the transfer of the Minden hospital from Red Cross to local control. According to association director Morgan Loucks, "We want to see the Minden hospital continue to provide emergency services."

The members were told that the Ministry of Natural Resources had stocked their lake with 1000 lake trout this year and an additional 3000 in Lake Kashagawigamog. It was pointed out that the pickerel planting of three years had proven to be a success and that fishermen wishing to test that statement need only slow troll through the narrows between Canning and Kashagawigamog lakes at dusk. The big ones are apparently waiting there.

The association's Fun Day has been scheduled for August 1. Boat and swimming competitions will be held on the lake, with races and other events, including a hot dog roast, scheduled for the new Ingoldsby ball diamond.

The membership returned the 1980-81 executive for another term in office. Heading the group will be president John Lytle. Others on the executive include first vice president John Robson, second vice president Whit Morris, treasurer Ron Packer, and secretary Jack Asby. Directors include Reg Ballantyne, Lorne Dittmer, Rita Lindsay, Morgan Loucks, Jim Martin, Bill Ridell, Stew Somocala, Ed Ramsdale, Joe Stauffer, Michael Van Every, Andy Wilson and Ken Williamson.

Members of the Canning Lake Property Owner's Association vote by raising their hands during the open-air annual meeting held Sunday morning.

Extra machines approved

After a slight delay, a Minden Arcade has finally been given approval for four additional pinball machines.

The matter had been put off at the June 24 meeting of council until last Wednesday's session.

Councillor Larry Cummins said he didn't think there was enough room for more machines but by-law officer, Dick Schell told council he thought there was plenty of room. Both had visited the Arcade after the request had been made by owner, Joe Shapiera.

Council members seemed upset that Shapiera had not included the tax for the extra machines along with his letter of application.

"He should have to pay before we can give them to him," said councillor Ed Pergolas.

In future, council wants similar requests and payment together and then the request can be granted. In this case, it will cost Shapiera $20 for the additional machines.

Keeping an eye on the ball as it sails skyward, one of the members of the Minden Hornets prepares to head for first base. The action was part of a Monday evening game against West Guilford at the Minden diamond. West Guilford took the match 19-13.

Hustlers win "B" championship

The Rockcliffe Hustlers travelled to Harcourt this past weekend to take part in the ninth annual fastball tournament and came away with the consolation championship.

On Friday night they lost a close contest to Tweed 3-2.

Tweed got on the scoreboard in the second inning only to have the locals tie it in the third on a homerun by Dwight Sisson. Tweed took the lead in the fourth inning as they picked up two runs. Minden got one run back in the fifth but were held off the scoreboard for the rest of the game. Tweed eventually went on to win the "A" championship.

In the second game Saturday the Hustlers soundly defeated the Bancroft I.G.A. 9-2. Jack Snell was the winning pitcher with Dave Dollo hitting a home run.

The third game on Sunday, the Hustlers made their way into the finals by trouncing the team from Fenelon Falls 6-0. Gene Newell and Dwight Sisson hit home runs and Snell was the winning pitcher.

The final game against Bancroft Pharmacy on Sunday night was a very close contest which found the two teams tied 2-2 after the second inning. The game remained this way until the fifth inning when the Hustlers picked up what proved to be the winning run on a bunt by Brian Shaw who reached third on a throwing error and scored on an infield out. Jack Snell was again the winning pitcher. Final score: Minden 3 - Bancroft 2.

Regular play

Action from last week found the Rockcliffe squeezing past Lindsay Juniors 4-3 to run their record to 10-4. It was a close contest throughout with the winning run coming in the sixth inning on a homerun by Bernie Nicholls.

Snell took the win while Sharman took the loss.

Everything was up in the air Sunday

Stanhope airport once again played host to an air show and fly in Sunday. The event drew a large number of spectators and planes from airports throughout southern Ontario. Spectators were treated to gravity defying stunts in vintage biplanes, lumbering military craft and surprisingly agile helicopters. A demonstration by a model airplane builder offered proof that one didn't have to actually get in an aircraft to be a PILOT OF GREAT aircraft to be a pilot of great daring-do. The photos on this page record some of the activities of the day.

It was a happy birthday last Thursday for Ted Fielding of Minden who, along with fellow residents at the senior citizen's apartment, marked his 94th year. The residents baked a cake for Mr. Fielding and hosted an afternoon celebration with cards and gifts.

Weberts mark 45th

Dorothy and Henry Webert of Minden marked their forty-fifth anniversary twice last month.

The couple was honoured at a party held at the home of Paul and Margaret Webert and a week later held a second celebration at the home of Gerald and Maureen Webert in Agincourt.

Attending at the first gathering were many friends and relatives including Margaret's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Davidson of Baltimore, Ontario and Evelyn Wood and her sister-in-law, Ada Wood, of Pine Ridge.

The second celebration was June 27. It was a double celebration as Margaret's birthday was June 26. The couple was treated to dinner at a local restaurant and later returned to their eldest son's home for a family gathering. In attendance were Gerald and Maureen Webert, their hosts, and their children, Karen, Katherine and Lindsay, and Paul and Margaret Davidson of Minden and their daughters, Heather and Cynthia.

Postal service continues locally

Local postal service continues to be provided in most communities in the Highlands, but mail to and from the rest of Canada is bogged down in the nation-wide postal strike.

The post offices in Minden, Haliburton, Kinmount and Norland have continued to provide delivery of locally addressed mail which is left at these facilities. This means box holders and those served by rural route delivery are receiving some mail, even though it is a mere trickle when compared with the regular flow.

In most areas, rural route service has been cut to a once or twice a week delivery schedule. According to Don Berry, Postmaster in Minden, rural route delivery personnel are 'on call' and will be called into service when there is sufficient mail to warrant it. He noted that the delivery of local newspapers is a priority item, ensuring the rural route delivery takes place at least once a week.

The area post offices will also be open this Saturday. They were closed last Saturday on instructions from the postal authorities. However, the union representing the local postal employees protested the closures and the usual Saturday hours of operation will now be observed.

Quick response saves visitor

Quick action by a Mountain Lake cottager averted a possible tragedy on that lake last week.

Mr. D. Graham of Rexdale was visiting at the cottage of Jack and Sylvia Webb and decided to try his luck at fishing early Thursday morning. He was casting from a canoe some distance from shore when the boat overturned.

Mrs. Jane Palmer, an adjacent property owner saw that the man was in trouble and that his efforts to reach safety were in vain. She rushed to his rescue with a motor boat, pulling the rapidly tiring man aboard.

Both Graham and his hosts expressed their gratification for the prompt action of their neighbour, Jane Palmer.

Council briefs

The following items were discussed at the July 8 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council.

Beer garden

Once again this year, one of the features at the Haliburton County fair will be a beer garden.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council last week agreed to the request made by the County Agricultural Society.

Grant approved

The Minden Rotary Club has received a grant from Anson, Hindon and Minden council for the Rotary Carnival.

The grant will be equal to the amount needed for area rental and expense costs.

Street closing

The west side of Minden's main street will be closed during the running of the Heineken Yard on July 30.

The annual event is scheduled for 4:30 in the afternoon starting at Onondaga Camp.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council agreed to the request from the Minden OPP. Usually two police cars, one in front and one behind, accompany the runners along the route.

Busy officer

Anson, Hindon and Minden by-law officer, Dick Schell is going to be busier than usual later this summer.

First, he's off to York University for a Ministry of Housing course and study session, for training of municipal housing inspectors.

The course runs August 30 -

Sept. 2 and there is a $45 registration fee and a $75 fee for accommodation and meals. A certificate will be given at the end, so members will have to be on their toes during the sessions.

Next, he'll be attending the Municipal Law Enforcement Officers' Association convention, Sept. 21-23.

It will be held at the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton and the cost is $75 for registration and accommodation.

Thieves busy

Outboard motors and flags seemed to be the main target of thieves this past week. The following is a summary of the thefts which occurred throughout the County. The total value of the items is just over $2000.

Taken were a bench from

Blairhampton Golf Course; a planter from Highway 35 at Ox Narrows; two gas tanks from Gull Lake; a spare tire from the Bethel Church Road; flags from Maple Lake; Highway 530, and from Stanhope Township; gas from Gooderham; and outboard motors from Mountain Lake, Dorset and Horseshoe Lake.

Police are continuing their investigations into these incidents.

What can we say....

Still filled with emotions upon the fine response to our fund-raising grand opening party, we would like to thank all of those who made this event such a success.

Our goal was achieved; with $658.00 for the Kidney Foundation and $420.00 for the Haliburton Lions Club, a heart-felt thank you from the Homestead family at the Schnitzel House

Sir Sam Hughes: he wanted to be remembered in the Haliburton Highlands

by Sue Scott

He was a soldier, athlete, lecturer, editor, publisher, politician and minister of the Crown.

He was controversial, colorful and some said, eccentric. His career lasted more than 50 years and Haliburton County residents have something to remember him by.

Sir Sam's Inn on Eagle Lake was once the summer home of one of Canada's most important military figures, Sam Hughes.

For local people and political history buffs, Hughes was MP for Victoria-Haliburton from 1892 until his death in 1921.

That was before his rather stormy years as Minister of the Militia under Robert Borden's Conservative government from 1911-1916.

Hughes built his home in the style of a hunting lodge at which he had been a guest during his European travels.

Constructed in 1917 of masonry and hand hewn beams, the house had a huge stone fireplace in the living room and another one in the den.

There were 14 rooms upstairs including the servants' quarters and the kitchen, which was modern for its day, was equipped with running water pumped by an electric generator.

Hughes had purchased the property from a family named Dutton who had cultivated a fine orchard, which Hughes preserved faithfully.

One of the first local people to be involved with the Hughes' home was Curly Bill Roberts, a skillful guide who became Hughes' favorite.

There is a story that relates how Hughes noticed one day that Roberts' canoe was quite badly worn. On his next trip to Haliburton, he telegraphed the Peterborough Canoe Company to ship in one of their finest craft on the next train for Roberts.

Part of his career was devoted to the newspaper, the Victoria Warden. He kept local businessmen and politicians hopping mad. Hughes used editorial invective which would be gasped at today. His editorship ran from 1885-1897.

Also during these years, Hughes was involved in many local activities in Lindsay. He was president of the Victoria County Rifle Association, vice-president of the Ontario Rifle Association, president of the Lindsay, Haliburton and Mattawa Railway Company and councillor with the Lindsay Board of Trade to name a few.

He also found time to be vice-president and secretary of the South Victoria Liberal-Conservative Association and to serve on the Board of Education of Lindsay.

Sir Sam Hughes left a little something behind so we wouldn't forget him. This was his summer home and is now the inn on the shores of Eagle Lake that bears his name.

His fighting spirit and his fierce love of the British Empire were both advantages and disadvantages for him during his term as Minister of the Militia.

One of his greatest achievements, and one which raised criticism among his opponents, was his assembly of more than 33,000 men, the Canadian Expeditionary Force. It was the first Canadian contingent to go overseas after the outbreak of the First World War. He insisted that Canadian battalions be kept intact rather than dispersed to British units. He established the dry canteen and turned summer militia camps into miniature battle grounds.

When he managed to slip away to his northern retreat, Hughes had several excellent riding horses on his expansive property. His only attempt at agriculture came when he stocked the island and part of his cleared land with several breeds of imported rabbits and Belgian hare. This only succeeded in keeping the foxes well fed for a few years.

During one summer in the 1920's, he hosted a golden lion cub which had been adopted from an African safari.

Hughes wanted to be remembered no matter what he did. "I don't care what they say as long as they talk about Sam Hughes," he was supposed to have said. During his years in Haliburton County, one would wonder if there would be anything else but Sir Sam about which to talk.

From his upbringing near Bowmanville to his funeral in Lindsay in 1921, Victoria-Haliburton's first and only knight was an opinionated, tough disciplinarian, an Imperialist, with a strong devotion to Canada, and he has left a special memorial in Haliburton County.

His estate was purchased by L.A. Pritchard and J.L. Dawson in 1942. They donated three acres to the Minden and Haliburton Rotary Club before disposing of the bulk of 1600 acres to Proctor and Priddle who established the Glen Eagle tourist resort.

Then, in 1965, the property was bought by the Haliburton Highlands Properties Limited who renovated the main lodge and opened Sir Sam's Inn and so it has continued until today.

Sir Sam Hughes, in uniform during the First World War.

Bridge work underway

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications will be carrying out some minor repair work to Highway 35, Gull River bridge during the next two weeks. In that time traffic over the bridge will be controlled by stop light and only a single lane of traffic will be permitted.

According to an MTC spokesman the workmen will be repairing a deck joint on the bridge. The work is expected to be completed in two weeks.

WANTED

Some of the businessmen of the village have been fixing up or painting up. Their efforts are blessed with success as these buildings surely look much better.

The village was saddened to hear of the death of Archie Stouffer last Wednesday. He was Public School Inspector here for many years and also was active in the community, being a Charter member of the Rotary Club, worked with the Red Cross and the Gideon Society. He will always be remembered by children when they pass through the door of the Archie Stouffer Public School.

The Flowers in Minden United Church last Sunday were in loving memory of Archie Stouffer who was a member of the Church Board and in the Choir and was a teacher in the Sunday School.

Begin the day with friendliness,
Keep friendly all day long.
Keep in your soul a friendly thought
In your heart a friendly song.
Have in your mind a word of cheer
For all who come your way
And they will greet you too, in turn
And wish you a happy day.

Lines from Lutterworth by Jean Lacey

Hi! It sure is staying hot, hope it cools down some soon. Although there are a lot of people who really love the heat, unfortunately I'm not one of them.

So pleased to hear that Mrs. Mary Oster and her son Lee are up to their cottage for a few days. Mrs. Oster had a bad fall last year but has come along wonderfully well. Her birthday was last month, she was 98 years young.

Mrs. Eleanor Miles and her daughter were up visiting in the area. They dropped in to visit with the Floyd Millers.

The Glasers are up to their cottage for their holidays.

We have some new Lutterworth residents as the Bailey's have moved into Nesbitt's house.

Lil Porter and her daughter, Norma, took young Steven back to Oshawa on Friday as Steven's family was going on a three week trip and of course he went too. Lil came back home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunsford travelled to Chatham on Saturday to attend a lovely garden wedding of their friend's son Ken Flaxman and his new bride Lee Stewart. On the way home they stopped in Toronto for a short visit.

The Stanhope Fly-In was a great success and very exciting.

Diane Clayton won an Art Scholarship from the Guild of Fine Arts, for a week's art lessons. She will stay home until the course is finished Miss Judith Boomkamp of Appledorn, Netherlands is visiting with her 'special' friend Michelle Maher for three weeks. The whole group will be touring various parts of Ontario.

All their friends send good wishes to these people who have been in hospital or who have now returned home, including Mrs. Duncan Prentice and Alec Hewitt.

We certainly enjoyed the Chartered Bus Tour to Cullen Gardens and Oshawa last Thursday, even in the hot sun. The flowers were grand and there was a chance to shop a bit at Oshawa. We certainly appreciate having this chance to join the Kinmount Senior Citizens Group who had sponsored this trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson of Fredericton P.E.I. are enjoying a visit with his mother Mrs. Roy Anderson.

Jean Welch of Florida is spending several weeks with Mrs. Harry Welch and we understand that Gerald Welch will be coming later in the summer.

Margaret Frise of Richmond Hill visited for several days with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Emmerson.

Master Scott Ewing of Toronto is visiting this week with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. Sears.

Guest, one day last week with the Phil Robinsons, was Mrs. Paul Cockburn of Woodville.

Sincere sympathy goes to the family and friends of the late Jose Diaz who died suddenly last week.

Laura and Dick Kirkwood attended the Archie Stouffer Funeral at Missionary Church, Stouffville, last Saturday.

The Rolling Readers Programme starts this week for youngsters and if you call in on Tuesday Mrs. Durant will explain the program; if you are having daytime activities, the Minden Library is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 7:30 - 8:30 p.m. as well as the usual afternoon hours.

Visiting with Inge and Gus Kasulke at the Highlands Motel are Inge's parents, Willard and Erika Juwell, residents of Palm Springs, California. We understand they plan to become regular summer visitors to our area.

There will be the bazaar and craft tables, baking and a yard sale as well as a luncheon at St. Paul's Anglican Church this Saturday July 18 starting at 11:30. Sounds like an interesting time, why not drop in for lunch?

The Puppet Show from Lake Ontario Regional will be at the Fire Hall Thursday July 23 and is free for everyone, and hopefully there will be a good crowd.

SMILE

When things don't go to suit you,
And the world seems upside down,
Don't waste your time in fretting,
But dry away that frown.

Since life is oft perplexing,
'Tis much the wiser plan,
To bear all trials bravely,
And smile when e're you can.

The Minden and Lindsay Red Cross Branches are having their annual Summer Bazaar on the C.I.B. of C. Lawn Corner on August 1st at 10 a.m. They welcome everyone to come and support their efforts.

No one should complain about the weather; it is great for visitors, and we see many people have sunburns. Be careful. Cheerio until next time.

on all its little sleeves,

The grass has shiny diamonds to brighten up its clothes,

And the pansy has a rainbow in the raindrop on its nose!

Do Black cats really bring bad luck?

That's just superstition—unless you are a mouse.

Why didn't the mummy answer the phone?
She was all tied up.

Bye for now. Take it easy.
God bless till next time.

The week's activities began with fun and fitness and crafts on Monday. In the evening it was our pleasure to welcome Rev. Roy Hirons to our home. He told us of his life as a missionary in Nigeria. He became a Christian at the age of 16 and went to Nigeria in 1944. Rev. Hirons showed some slides and told several stories with the moral that sin will always find you out. Our residents enjoyed the pictures and stories and would like to thank Rev. Hirons for sharing them with them.

Tuesday morning Father Brooks of Kinmount Anglican Church held communion service in our chapel. Barbara Trocewicz accompanied by Agnes Taylor led in the singing of hymns.

In the afternoon, several people gathered in the auditorium for a game of bingo. As usual everyone enjoyed the afternoon playing the game of chance.

Earl Cooper and his group were here later in the evening to play some old time music for music night. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment.

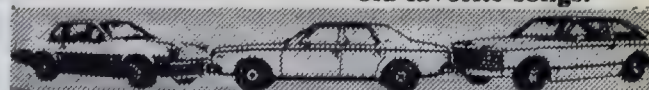

Wednesday the annual Strawberry Tea, Bake Sale and Bazaar was held in our auditorium. Many of our guests enjoyed delicious strawberry shortcake and tea which was served by Hyland Crest auxiliary. At the end of the day the ticket was drawn on the quilt which was made by our residents. Dorothy Finch, R.R. 1 Haliburton was the lucky winner.

Because it was so warm the residents decided not to have games night. Instead they spent the evening relaxing in the screened-in areas of our home.

The ladies of Lutterworth Pines served a delicious assortment of tea breads at the weekly tea party on Thursday afternoon. Even though the weather was hot and sticky everyone enjoyed a cup of tea and the goodies. Our thanks to the ladies for a most enjoyable afternoon.

We ended the week's activities with the sing song on Friday afternoon. Grace Coburn led the singing and Norma Barron accompanied her on the piano. Everyone enjoyed singing the old favorite songs.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone who came with their sympathy at the death of my wife.

Sam LaBarge

I would like to thank our many friends who have been so kind and helpful during my stay in hospital in Peterborough and since my return home. I feel our prayers were answered and I am now on the road to recovery. The beautiful flowers, cards and gifts and the many visits of Mindonites were most sincerely appreciated. Special thanks to Mr. Douglas Miller, Dr. Jodenquai and Dr. J. Mewitt.

CARD OF THANKS

The nurses and staff of St. Joseph's Hospital must be commended for their care and attention during my illness.

Helen Burton

IN MEMORIAM

Petrol Miscio - In loving memory of my dear brother who passed away July 20, 1979.

Always a lonely heartache,
Often a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory,
Of a brother I love so dear.

Sadly missed and always remembered by Nell

That's Life

When you're looking for ways to protect your family, think of permanent life insurance. It's one of the most unselfish things you'll ever buy. You don't buy it just for yourself. You buy it because there are others who need you as much as you need them. That's life.

So when you're looking for life insurance... think of me.
